The Course:

This course provides students with an overview of the issues that planners face in the public finance and budgeting arena. Public finance concepts, tools and techniques relevant to planning in urban communities will be introduced and discussed during the semester.

We will meet once a week for the next fifteen weeks. During each class session we will discuss the assigned readings and their relevance to the essays and the financial analysis paper you will be working on during the semester. Everyone should be prepared to discuss the readings on a weekly basis. Guest speakers will be announced during the semester. Regular and punctual attendance is required for full credit.

If you have any questions during the semester, please bring them to my attention. I will be available during my office hours and by appointment. Also, you may contact me by phone or using e-mail. The syllabus for this class is subject to change during the semester.

Required Text and Required Reserve Readings: The required texts are available at the UB Medical Campus Bookstore and the College Store.

- 1) Brunori, David. 2007. Local Tax Policy: A Federalist Perspective, Second Edition. Washington, DC: The Urban Institute Press.
- 2) Honadle, Beth Walter, James M. Costa and Beverly A. Cigler. 2004. Fiscal Health for Local Governments: An Introduction to Concepts, Practical Analysis, and Strategies. San Diego, CA: Elsevier Academic Press.
- 3) Required Reserve Readings are available on the S:drive and UB Learns

Note: In addition to the required readings it is suggested that students purchase a copy of a style manual (i.e. The Chicago Manual of Style, or a similar manual) to use as a reference when writing papers, journals and other assignments during the semester.

Course Requirements:

Essays: There are three open book essays required during the semester. The essays will test your knowledge of course materials covered during the semester. Essay #1 will be assigned on January 27 and is due on February 3. Essay #2 will be assigned on February 24 and is due on March 3. Essay #3 will be assigned on March 31 and is due on April 7.

Financial Analysis: A paper (8-10 pages in length for students enrolled in PD439, 10-15 pages in length for students enrolled in PD539) is due at the beginning of class on April 21. The paper should be based on library and applied research. In the paper students will examine the financial structure of a local governmental unit, school district, or special district, and make inferences about it using existing academic literature focusing on similar organizations. The financial analysis has two foci: to evaluate the financial structure of a selected entity, and to make recommendations for budget and financial management reform with a specific focus on enhancing equity and efficiency. The financial analysis will be discussed in detail during lecture on January 27.

Individual Presentation: On April 21, each student will present a summary of the findings from his/her financial analysis. The presentation will be discussed in detail during lecture on April 14.

Grading Policy:

There are 100 points possible during the semester. With the exception of extreme emergencies, the grade of "I" will not be given at the end of the semester. Extra credit will not be offered in this course. Your grade will be based on the following assignments and activities:

ESSAY #1	15 points
ESSAY #2	20 points
ESSAY #3	20 points
FINANCIAL ANALYSIS	40 points
INDIVIDUAL PRESENTATION	5 points

Academic Integrity:

Students are expected to approach the course with seriousness and integrity. It is important to complete assignments on time, attend class regularly, and foster a collegial learning environment. Plagiarism and other instances of academic misconduct will result in a failing grade on a respective assignment, exam, or paper. Students should refer to the University at Buffalo Undergraduate Catalog and the University at Buffalo Graduate Catalog for clarification on the University's policies and procedures.

Accommodations for Disabilities:

If you have a disability (physical, learning, or psychological) that impacts your course work please contact the Office of Disability Services (ODS), 25 Capen Hall, (716) 645-2608. ODS will provide you with information and review appropriate arrangements for reasonable accommodation (such as recruiting note-takers, readers, or extended time on assignments). You must bring requests for accommodations for a disability to the professor's attention within the first two weeks of class.

Writing Centers:

The University at Buffalo has a number of writing center where students can get assistance with essays, term papers, and thesis projects. Students should contact one of the following if they would like to access these campus resources:

- Undergraduate students can go to the Writing Place for assistance. The Writing Place is located at 209 Baldy Hall, (716) 645-2394; <http://tlc.buffalo.edu/lcwrite.htm> ,
